Hello...my name is Jim Mehas, owner of Mehas Music. For over 70 years, our main focus has been to help people in our community learn how to play musical instruments.

Our goal here is to help you make the proper decisions about your choice of school band instrument, and how to best acquire one for the upcoming school year. Here are the TOP FIVE important points to consider:

1) The best way to get started with an instrument is to rent one. This allows you to possess a top-of-the-line student instrument at a cost usually less than investing in a used one, or repairing that old horn up in your attic. We rent Yamaha instruments...THE most recommended brand nationwide and locally!

2) Our rates are the lowest in the land, and rent goes toward the purchase. This gives you time to make informed decisions as your child's skills develop. Our low overhead and LOCAL focus help us keep our costs down so we can pass the savings onto you. And should you wish to try a different instrument, our rental plan allows for hassle-free instrument exchange at any point of the process.

3) Make sure your rental plan INCLUDES a maintenance and insurance component. Our advertised rates ALWAYS include this critical component (and we throw-in 100% loss and theft coverage to boot). Pay attention to this one my dear friends....watch out for those HIDDEN COSTS and enrollment fees! We have in-house, on-the-spot instrument technicians to help you solve any problems you may encounter.

4) TRY SOME PRIVATE LESSONS. This is the big one folks! There's nothing that can get you off to a better start than a one-on-one experience from a seasoned pro...someone who can show you that playing a musical instrument is one of the most FUN experiences you'll ever have. Also, this can be a great help in determining what instrument you may want to play.

DID YOU KNOW: With more than 500 students, Mehas Music is the home of one of the largest private music schools in the Tri-State. We'll get YOU rockin' too!

5) Avoid obtaining your instrument from online sources, "discount" outlets, pawn shops, etc. In other words...get your instrument from a reputable music store, and do it in person, not online. One of the most useful and fun experiences your child will have is visiting our store, and getting a personal face-to-face lesson on how to take care of his or her instrument...all a part of the rental process, and just another example of our old-school service.

If it would be more convenient for you to have us deliver your instrument to your school, we are happy to make this arrangement...just call us at 513-867-1811 and we'll be glad to walk you through the process. We look forward to answering any questions you may have, and we thank you in advance for putting your trust in Mehas Music.

Yours musically,

Jim Mehas
